U.S. Air Force Fact Sheet RAP GUIDE FOR TECHNICAL TRAINING/OTS

Section B: Introduction

For Applicants who are attending or will attend Technical Training or OTS.

1. INTRODUCTION

This handbook has been designed to familiarize you with the Recruiter Assistance Program (RAP). RAP is designed to allow Air Force members to work with Enlisted Accession (EA) and Officer Accession (OA) recruiters by returning to their hometowns and providing personal testimonials, assisting in obtaining school lists, participating in COIs/DEP Commander's Calls and performing other recruiting-related tasks. RAP monitors are designated by individual Squadron Commanders. Authority for this program is contained in AFI 36-3003.

This handbook describes the policies and procedures for the Recruiter Assistance Program pertaining to applicants who currently are attending or will attend Technical Training or OTS.

RAP is not intended to be a "free" leave program.

- While performing RAP duties, participants are in a "non-chargeable leave" status; they receive no payment for per diem or travel expenses. Up to 12 days of non-chargeable leave may be authorized; this will run from Monday to Friday of the following week and include ONLY one weekend.
- RAP is very beneficial to our recruiters; past recruiter feedback has been very supportive of the program. This handbook should provide the majority of instructions and guidance needed to successfully execute the program. If you need additional guidance, or have any comments about the program, please contact AFRS/RSOPA at DSN 665-0369 or commercial (210) 565-0369.

- All members that apply for the RAP program will be notified from the Recruiting Squadron RAP monitor within 7 days via e-mail of approval/disapproval. The selected applicants will be told that participation is not guaranteed due to date changes or port call changes, etc. The RAP monitor will brief the applicant that if their graduation date changes and the approved dates of participation cannot be met, they must inform the Squadron RAP monitor ASAP. The Squadron RAP monitor will contact the Recruiter/ Flight Chief to verify whether the applicant can be effectively used during the new time frame and approve or disapprove the new dates.
 - The RAP monitor can approve the application for different dates than those requested but must ensure it does not impact the applicant's ability to report before the assigned RNLTD/port call. The RAP participation period should include one weekend. In cases of less than the maximum 12 days of non-chargeable leave, the commander must exercise judgment in evaluating the number of duty and non-duty days in the non-chargeable leave period. Under no circumstances will non-chargeable leave be granted for non-duty days unless they are both preceded and followed by RAP duty.
 - The Squadron Commander has the authority to terminate RAP participation and the non-chargeable leave at any point if continued participation is determined not to benefit the Air Force. This should be done as a last resort, and normally be restricted to cases of exceptionally poor performance by the RAP participant. If the expected RAP activities are interrupted due to no fault of the participant (for example, emergency leave by the recruiter), every effort should be made to find meaningful duty for the participant to perform to complete the scheduled RAP period.
 - Recruiting Squadron Commanders and RAP monitors must ensure that recruiters use RAP participants appropriately. Participants should be involved in recruiting activities where their familiarity with the community, personal contacts with peers and teachers, and ability to relate with potential applicants can be used. Participating in COIs and DEP Commander's calls, assistance in obtaining school lists, and providing personal testimonials to potential applicants are some examples of appropriate RAP activities.
 - RAP monitors must ensure RAP participants receive a safety briefing from the Flight Chief.
 - When a participant completes RAP duty, the recruiter verifies to the Recruiting RAP monitor the dates of RAP duty. The Squadron Commander will sign AFRS Squadron Command memo providing the applicant a letter verifying the correct period of non-chargeable leave and certifying that the appropriate duty was performed. A sample letter is provided on page 10. This letter will be sent via email to the participants prior to submission of their travel voucher or returning from leave. The Squadron Command memo certification cannot be delegated except in the instances where the Commander has designated an Acting Commander during his or her absence.
 - Recruiting Squadron Commanders should ensure that recruiters complete the RAP after-action report after each participant completes RAP duty. This feedback is critical for evaluation of program effectiveness. Recruiters will forward reports to the squadron to use for squadron evaluation of the program.
 - After-action and RAP Participation Reports should be maintained in a transitory file for one year.

8. GUIDELINES FOR MILITARY TRAINING LEADERS AT TECHNICAL TRAINING SCHOOLS

- MTLs should familiarize themselves with the RAP application and fact sheet on the AF Recruiting Service website, www.rs.af.mil. During orientation/introduction, MTLs should brief airmen on when to submit applications.
- Assist RAP applicants in obtaining website information from the AF Recruiting Service homepage, www.rs.af.mil.
- Submit disapproval recommendations of application when applicant meets disapproval criteria. The only criterion for disapproval is if the airmen have received a UIF, on a control roster or UCMJ administrative action at Technical Training. No additional requirements should be placed on airmen in order to qualify for participation, i.e., point system, performing additional duties, etc.
- The MTL will inform airmen that have an approved RAP application if their graduation date changes and the approved participation dates cannot be met, the airman must notify the Recruiting Squadron RAP monitor as soon as possible.

9. GUIDELINES FOR OFFICER TRAINING SCHOOL PERSONNEL

- OTS personnel should familiarize themselves with the RAP Application and the fact sheet on the AF Recruiting Service website, www.rs.af.mil. During training orientation/introduction, OTS personnel should brief applicants on when to submit applications.
- Assist RAP applicants in obtaining website information from the AF Recruiting Service homepage, www.rs.af.mil.
- The OTS personnel will inform candidates that have an approved RAP application if their graduation date changes and the approved participation dates cannot be met, the candidates must notify the Recruiting Squadron RAP monitor as soon as possible.

10. GUIDELINES FOR MILITARY PERSONNEL FLIGHTS

The airman/officer candidate will annotate their voice and email address (commercial and DSN) on the application and email the application to the Recruiting Squadron RAP monitor. The Recruiting Squadron RAP monitor will e-mail the application back indicating approval/disapproval and, if approved, the approved dates.
- The signed application and e-mail response should both be filed in the member's relocation folder as stated in AFI 36-2102.
- The MTL/OTS squadron personnel should notify the student of any changes in graduation dates that may affect the approved participation dates. If RAP is approved, check to be sure that RAP and en route leave can be completed before RNLTD/port call.
- Inform airmen that have an approved RAP application that if the graduation date changes, whereas the approved participation dates cannot be met, the airman must notify the Recruiting Squadron RAP monitor as soon as possible.

Section C: Introduction

For Applicants who are permanent party.

1. INTRODUCTION

RAP is designed to allow Air Force members to work with Non-prior Service (NPS) and Officer Training School (OTS) recruiters by returning to their hometowns or area of leave and providing personal testimonials, assisting in obtaining school lists, participating in COIs/DEP Commander's Calls, and performing other recruiting related-tasks. Authority for this program is contained in AFI 36-3003.

RAP is not intended to be a "free" leave program.

While performing RAP duties, participants are in a "non-chargeable leave" status. They receive no payment for per diem or travel expenses. Up to 12 days of non-chargeable leave may be authorized; this will normally run from Monday to Friday of the following week, and include one weekend.

RAP is very beneficial to our recruiters; past recruiter feedback has been very supportive of the program. This handbook provides the majority of instructions and guidance needed to successfully execute the program. If you need additional guidance, or have any comments about the program, please contact AFRS/RSOPA, at DSN 665-0369 or commercial (210) 565-0369.

2. Normal Sequence of Events

- All Air Force permanent party members officers and enlisted must obtain prior approval from your Unit Commander to receive non-chargeable leave status.
- Permanent party members will utilize the following AF Recruiting Service websites to locate local Recruiting Squadrons, Recruiters and RAP Monitors: airforce.com and www.rs.af.mil.
- Applicant should visit the AF Recruiting Service website at www.rs.af.mil. A quick reference sheet forms and handbook will be made available at the www.rs.af.mil website location. The recruiter locator on airforce.com allows the applicant to determine the nearest recruiting office in the leave area. Once the recruiter has been identified, complete the application AFRS IMT 1327. The rs.af.mil website provides a list of all the Air Force Recruiting Squadrons RAP monitors with e-mail addresses along with a map of the United States showing all the Air Force Recruiting Squadron locations. Please do not call the recruiter; email the Recruiting Squadron RAP monitors the completed AFRS IMT 1327.
- The Recruiting Squadron RAP monitor will review the application along with the availability for requested RAP dates, contact the Flight Chief and Recruiter requesting a recommendation of approval or disapproval based on their schedules, upcoming events, projected leave, etc. Recruiters should generally recommend approval unless they will be unavailable during the time the applicant will be in the area. On the recommendation of the Flight Chief and Recruiter, the Recruiting RAP monitor will approve or disapprove the application. The RAP monitor may approve the request for different dates than those requested as necessary to fit the recruiter's schedule but must not approve for more than the number of days requested. The applicant will be notified within 7 workdays of approval status.

- If approved, the applicant will receive the completed AFRS IMT 1327. The AFRS IMT 1327 is only an application, not a confirmation of RAP duty. The source document for approving non-chargeable leave status is the recruiting squadron commander's verification letter. An emailed signed copy of the AFRS IMT 1327 will be sent to the applicant's squadron representative appearing on the AFRS IMT 1327.
- Member must file the signed Squadron Command memo with part III of leave form (AF Form 988) in order not to be charged leave for this period. Annotate in Block 8 remarks section to read "AFI 36-3003; para 14.10, non-chargeable leave for dates of participation in the Recruiter Assistance Program; should be printed in the remarks section."
- Shortly before RAP duty is completed, the recruiter will notify the squadron RAP monitor and verify the correct dates of non-chargeable leave.
 - NET 1 work day remaining in the RAP execution period, Participant and Recruiter will complete the After Action Report (see Attachment C) and submit it to the RAP Monitor.
 - NET 1 work day remaining in the RAP execution period, Recruiter will coordinate with RAP Monitor to submit AFRS Squadron Command memo (see Attachment A) to the AFRS Squadron Commander for signature.
 - AFRS Squadron RAP monitor will return signed AFRS Squadron Command memo to RAP Participant via email and keep all records for post RAP filing.
- The participant must file this letter with part III of leave form (AF Form 988) when they return to their duty section in order to avoid being charged leave for these days.

3. Fact Sheet for Permanent Party Members

- The purpose of the Recruiter Assistance Program (RAP) is to permit Air Force members to work with recruiters by returning to their hometown and providing personal testimonials, assisting in school visits, and performing other recruiting-related tasks. Participation in the program is entirely voluntary.
- As a participant in the program, you will be granted up to 12 days of non-chargeable leave. "Non-chargeable leave" means that you will be in a leave status, but these days will not be counted against your leave balance. Normally, only one weekend may be included in the non-chargeable leave period.
- All Air Force permanent party members officers and enlisted may participate in this program, however you must obtain prior approval from your Unit Commander to receive non-chargeable leave status (AF FM 988).
- You should expect to perform a full workday of recruiting duties during each duty day of non-chargeable leave. The specific hours worked and duties to be performed will be determined by your recruiter and may include some evening and/or weekend duty. You will be expected to display a professional military appearance, positive and enthusiastic attitude, and exemplary personal conduct at all times. You will wear uniforms during RAP duty.

- You will not call the recruiter collect. Recruiters are not authorized to accept collect calls from active duty individuals. With your unit's approval, official calls may be made using their telephone. Personal calls must be made at your own expense.
- Your application may be disapproved; the Recruiting Squadron RAP monitor will evaluate your request based on recruiter's need for assistance during the time period of your request. You may be approved for less than the full twelve days, and for a time period different from what you requested, due to requirements and scheduling constraints of your recruiter.
- Regardless of the originally approved schedule, the Recruiting Squadron Commander/RAP monitor may terminate your participation at any time if performance standards are not met, or if continuation in the program is determined not to benefit the Air Force. Should this happen, you will return to chargeable leave status and must report to your duty station before your authorized chargeable leave expires.
- You will not be compensated for participating in the RAP beyond your normal pay and benefits. Specifically, you will not be reimbursed for meals, lodging, travel or other expenses.
- You will submit the application to the Squadron RAP monitor via e-mail 4 weeks prior to the desired leave time. The Recruiting Squadron RAP monitor will consult with the Flight Chief and Recruiter, approve or deny your request, and return the application to you via e-mail within 7 duty days. You must have an approved application to participate in the program.
- If your projected leave date changes and the approved date cannot be met, you must inform the Recruiting Squadron RAP monitor.
- If approved, you should contact your recruiter immediately when you arrive in the area on leave. The recruiter will verify your dates of participation and specify when and where to report for duty and describe the types of activities planned for you.
- When you complete recruiter assistance duty, will be provided a letter signed by the Recruiting Squadron Commander verifying RAP participation. You must file this letter with your part III of your leave form (AF Form 988) to avoid being charged leave for your RAP participation.
